

WELCOME

This week has a forecast for a week of rain. Hopefully our students will be able to head out for faction carnival practise during their sport sessions. This Friday will be training for the year 3 to 6 students.

Mrs Bonetti was in the school this morning talking to the students and teachers about learning and what the students are learning today (WALT- we are learning to....) and what the teacher/students are looking for (WILF- what I'm looking for....). Mrs Bonetti will be here over the next few weeks to support the staff to develop these skills in planning.

Parent contact information:

Can you please ensure your contact details are up to date in case of an accident or if they are unwell.

MOVING FORWARD AIMING HIGH

At North Morley, the staff have a whole school philosophy and approach to maximising student learning. We are committed to ensuring we are using Best Teaching and Learning Practices based on current research and data collection. Mrs Katrina Bonetti from the WA Principals' Association visited us for an after school Professional Learning session on iStar (iStar is an acronym for the headings below). Each heading seems simple enough as starting points, but in the world of teaching and learning these are quite extensive.

Inform/Inspire

Show/Share

Try/Transfer

Apply/Action

Review/Revise

This model benefits the students because all staff will have connected practices within their classroom leading to whole school approaches. Whole school approaches work well as they strengthen links, sequence learning and utilise the same language for learning from the early years to the senior years. It allows teachers to have the freedom to express their own personalities, creativities and individual teaching styles within a framework of a common language, understanding and consistency.
